Southeast, Inc.

Southeast, Inc., a nonprofit organization and a leader in the state of Ohio for over 25 years, has adopted a mission and responsibility to serve the most complex populations with mental health and substance abuse services, including diverse, hard to reach, high-need and vulnerable individuals. Southeast enhances recovery and helps people with mental illness, addiction and dual diagnosis to reclaim their lives by utilizing innovative and creative best practices with outreach, treatment, education and prevention services.

Fresh A.I.R. Gallery

Fresh A.I.R. (Artists in Recovery) Gallery opened in the lobby of 131 N. High St. on September 28, 2004. The Fresh A.I.R. Gallery is a venue for public display of work by artists who are affected by mental health and/or substance abuse issues. Gallery exhibits feature the struggles and courage of the artists, combat stigma and address social issues. Southeast, Inc. created the Gallery solely for the benefit of the artist and does not accept commission from the sale of artwork.

Jerry Bowling

Jerry Bowling is a Columbus artist and photographer who shares the beauty of his personal creativity that he has nurtured over the past thirty years. One of his works, “Elijah Pierce: The Woodcarver” is in the permanent collection at The Columbus Museum of Art. Bowling’s early work in fashion photography led to national exposure in Glamour, Mademoiselle, and Town and Country. His personal work has covered a broad spectrum, and photography has become a way for Bowling to capture and show others the strong, beautiful and moving things we see every day.
